The student named above has applied to participate in the 2011 NACET/Flagstaff Chamber of Commerce YES! Week, which is aimed at helping students gain an understanding of entrepreneurship as a viable career option, generate business ideas, meet and learn from successful entrepreneurs and develop leadership abilities and skills.

Participation is limited to 16 students who will be selected on the basis of interest in business, academic achievement, involvement and leadership, application and recommendations. Your appraisal of the student will help us in the selection of qualified applicants for this program. Please note this program is limited to incoming high school sophomores, juniors and seniors.

Please return this recommendation form by May 31st 2011 to:

NACET

As part of YES! Week, business professionals and leaders will be volunteering their time to speak to and interact with the participants by sharing their own career and professional experiences. The value of such interactions is dependent on the students being engaged and participating. Do you consider this student an active learner who participates and/or asks questions? Would the student understand and value the time and contribution of such volunteers?
